

OREGON BUSINESS NEWS

Business Movers: Mason Terry named to lead the Oregon Renewable Energy Center

Posted February 21, 2018 at 08:00 AM | Updated February 21, 2018 at 08:00 AM

A weekly collection of new hires, transitions, promotions and award winners in Oregon and southwest Washington: Oregon Renewable Energy Center

Oregon Institute of Technology has announced the appointment of Mason Terry to lead the Oregon Renewable Energy Center as the new director. One-time funding provided by the Oregon legislature in 2017 enable OREC to expand into an applied research center. Terry is a graduate of Oregon Tech. He has 10 years of experience as a leader of global researchers for DuPont (formerly Innovalight).

Keene Studio, LLC

Craft3

Nonprofit lender Craft3 hired Portland banking executive Mark Stevenson as chief financial officer. Stevenson fills the role vacated during the January retirement of David Oser. Most recently, Stevenson was an executive at Pacific Continental Bank, leading the bank's nonprofit banking and sustainability initiatives.

Keith Brofsky

Metis

Metis, a northwest company that advises wine, hospitality, and beverage alcohol on capital transactions, such as mergers and acquisitions, announces the addition of Andy Steinman as a managing director to lead business operations in Oregon.

Steinman is currently partner/investor in two-time James Beard Award-winning chef Gabriel Rucker's three Portland restaurants. He is also current CFO of Walter Scott Wines. Metis has established offices in Seattle, Walla Walla, and the Willamette Valley.

Blanchet House

Portland civic leaders (pictured left to right) Janie (Marsh) Gullickson, Alisa Sinnott, and Diane Whidden have joined the board of Blanchet House. Blanchet House is a 66-year-old nonprofit organization dedicated to feeding the homeless and offering sober living programs to men in Portland and Yamhill County.

Wells Fargo

Wells Fargo's Business Banking Group has promoted Alisa Johnston to Oregon region manager. In her new Portland-based role, she will oversee the customer service efforts of 57 teams members in Oregon and Southwest Washington. Johnston previously managed a team of eight business banking relationship managers in Portland. Also, Wells Fargo has named Morgan Handy the manager of its bank branch on River Road in Eugene. She had previously managed a Wells Fargo bank branch in Junction City.

Stoel Rives

Stoel Rives LLP welcomes Andrew Solomon, Christopher Criglow, and Dana Krawczuk to the firm's Portland office as partners in the real estate and land use groups. Also, Christian Scott will be joining the real estate group as counsel, and Laura Kerr has joined the environmental group as an associate.

Aunt Fannie's

Aunt Fannie's, a Portland healthy household cleaning products and pest solutions company, announced the appointment of Meghan Hastie as chief marketing officer. Hastie will oversee the company's global marketing arm and drive customer and retail adoption and brand awareness. Prior to joining Aunt Fannie's, Hastie served as director of marketing at Salt & Straw Ice Cream.

Living Room Realty

Living Room Realty has announced the addition of Lauren Clark, Kathleen George and Ash Jimenez to its staff and management team.